

Welcome to our #LetsTalkSmellAndTaste Online Conversation Event

We are pleased you have joined us!

We want to ensure we keep you safe whilst you connect with each other and so we have an agreement to help us do that.

By registering for and attending the event you agree:

- 1. That you are aged 18 or over or are attending with a parent/guardian.
2. To be kind and supportive to everyone.
- 3. To respect the right to privacy of everyone, keep the confidence of the those you meet and not share personal or personally identifiable details of those you meet.
4. To listen to others as well as share your experiences.
- 5. To encourage fellow attendees, engage constructively and with compassion.

Some events are recorded and shared on social media platforms for the benefit of those not able to attend. When this happens the cameras for attendees will be turned off and your identity will be protected. You will also be advised at the beginning of the event if this is applicable.

Most events are interactive conversations and are not recorded. Attendees can freely interact. Fifth Sense will not share personally identifiable data with anyone without written consent. Taking screen shots and sharing personal information of other attendees outside of the event is not permitted. Fifth Sense will take every precaution to protect the privacy of attendees but are not accountable for the behaviour/actions of attendees outside of the event.
